

Central Yavapai Fire District Training Center

Central Yavapai Fire District opened its new Training Center in Prescott Valley in the summer of 2008. It is a two-phase project which when completed will include a single-family house prop, a driver training track and additional building and fire training props. The Training Center has hosted several regional training events and in May 2008 hosted a multi-agency RRT & USAR drill comprised of over 16 different Phoenix Valley fire and police agencies. It is the most modern facility of its type in Northern Arizona.

The Training Center sits on a 16-acre complex and includes the following structures and facilities:

- Five-story training tower with 3 propane fired burn rooms
- One Class A Flashover chamber
- Classrooms and computers designed for a positive learning environment
- CPAT building with adjacent strip mall
- Propane props
- Numerous ventilation props
- One outdoor training pavilion

The training center is located on the east edge of Prescott Valley just off of Highway 69 at 9601 E Valley Road.
